To the Employees of the FCA:

I have today signed an order which places upon the Governor of the Farm Credit Administration the highest degree of responsibility that is legally permissible for administering the activities of the Farm Credit Administration. A copy of the order is attached. This order is necessary to provide the legal basis for the relationship between Farm Credit Administration and the Department of Agriculture. Such an order has been issued in every case of reorganization changes. The order for the most part simply delegates operating powers which under the Reorganization Plan are made my responsibility. It says that the Governor will be directly responsible to me. It makes the Governor a member of the Agricultural Program Board, authorizes the staff offices of the Department to establish liaison arrangements with the appropriate offices and divisions of the FCA, and continues the regulations, delegations of authority, and procedures heretofore issued by the Governor of the FCA.

I have today signed an order which places upon the Governor of Program Board, authorizes the staff offices of the Department to establish liaison arrangements with the appropriate offices and divisions of the FGA, and continues the regulations, delegations of authority, and procedures heretofore issued by the Governor of the FGA.

There has been much loose talk recently about the relationship of the Farm Credit Administration to other branches of the Government. Some of the reports which you have read must have caused you to become nervous and apprehensive. I am therefore sending to each of you this personal explanation -- an explanation that deals with some of the facts back of today's administrative order.

On June 3, 1939, I issued a memorandum, which sought to place upon the Governor of the Farm Credit Administration responsibility for the conduct of FCA affairs that was almost identical to what he had prior to Reorganization Plan No. 1. The only change was that the Governor would report in a general way to me, rather than to the President. This slight change from the situation prior to reorganization represented some advance in administrative management because the President today has such very great and heavy responsibilities that he could not be expected to consult frequently with the head of an independent agency except to aid in meeting some serious emergency situation. One of the basic reasons for any kind of reorganization ~~lay~~ in the fact that more people were reporting to the President than any one man could well handle.

However, on September 26, 1939, the Comptroller General ruled that of the reports which you have read and have caused you to become nervous and apprehensive. I am therefore sending to each of you this personal explanation -- an explanation that deals with some of the facts back of today's administrative order.

On June 2, 1939, I issued a memorandum, which sought to place upon the Governor of the First United Administration responsibility for the conduct of FGA affairs that was almost identical to what he had prior to Reorganization Plan No. 1. The only change was that the Governor would report in a general way to me, rather than to the President. This slight change from the situation prior to reorganization represented some advance in administrative management because the President today has much more heavy responsibilities that he could not be expected to consult frequently with the head of an independent agency except to aid in meeting some serious emergency situation. One of the basic reasons for any kind of reorganization was in the fact that more people were reporting to the President than any one man could well handle.

However, on September 26, 1939, the Comptroller General ruled that I did not have legal authority to divest myself of responsibility for the management of the Farm Credit Administration to the extent that I had indicated in my June 3 order. He recognized that the head of a Department must delegate responsibility, but that the head of a Department cannot thereby escape his own responsibility.

Now, in administering a large agency, the head obviously must have help. It is wholly unrealistic, yes foolish, for anyone to say that the Secretary of a large Department can effectively carry out Congressional mandates simply by conferring occasionally with bureau chiefs, who in turn are held responsible for given activities. The President, the Congress, and citizens generally expect the head of a Department to deal effectively, for example, with budgetary and fiscal affairs throughout the organization. The same is true of educational, informational, personnel, and other matters. Further, the President, the Congress, and citizens generally expect the various parts of an organization to avoid duplication and waste, and the work of the various bureaus to make collective sense. Farmers would be the first to criticize if one branch of this Department sought to take a given action and another branch sought to take a directly contradictory action.

I did not have legal authority to discuss myself or responsibility for the management of the Farm Credit Administration to the extent that I had indicated in my June 3 order. He recognized that the head of a Department must delegate responsibility, but that the head of a Department cannot thereby escape his own responsibility.

Now, in administering a large agency, the head obviously must have help. It is wholly unrealistic, yes foolish, for anyone to say that the Secretary of a large Department can effectively carry out Congressional mandates simply by conferring occasionally with bureau chiefs, who in turn are held responsible for given activities. The President, the Congress, and citizens generally expect the head of a Department to deal effectively, for example, with budgetary and fiscal affairs throughout the organization. The same

Further, the President, the Congress, and citizens generally expect the various parts of an organization to avoid duplication and waste, and the work of the various bureaus to make collective sense. Bureaus would be the first to criticize if one branch of this Department sought to take a given action and another branch sought to take a directly contradictory action.

Consequently, the head of a Department must have staff offices and assistants to aid him in exercising his responsibility for general supervision.

There is much to be said, therefore, for having the Farm Credit Administration subject to the same Departmental regulations and the same procedures for review and coordination of specific functions ^{in the same way} as ~~all~~ all other branches of the Department. However, it is as desirable for me as it is for the personnel of the Farm Credit Administration to have this coordinating function introduced mildly and exercised considerably. It is imperative that we capitalize fully on the zeal, the initiative, the knowledge and understanding of the people in the agency that has the specialized operating responsibility.

Since I cannot and I am sure should not divest myself of the responsibility placed upon me by Reorganization Plan No. 1, the Governor, by the attached memorandum, is made subject to the general supervision of the Secretary. Several days ago I said, in a public statement, "My function as Secretary of Agriculture is to act as coordinator for the President in tying the Farm Credit Administration in with the rest of the agricultural work and procedures for review and coordination of specific functions as are all other branches of the Department. However, it is as desirable for us as it and understanding of the people in the agency that has the specialized

Since I cannot and I am sure should not divest myself of the responsibility fully placed upon me by Reorganization Plan No. 1, the Governor, if the attached memorandum, is made subject to the general supervision of the Secretary. Several days ago I said, in a public statement, "My function as Secretary of Agriculture is to act as coordinator for the President's the Farm Credit Administration in with the rest of the agricultural work and thus keep all these public services to agriculture moving forward toward common objectives."

Just how much help I shall ^{need} have to have in the field of coordination I do not know at this time. Consequently, after consultation with Governor Black I have included a provision in today's order which authorizes certain staff offices of the Department to establish cooperative liaison relationships with the appropriate offices of the FCA. I am confident that experienced officers of the FCA and of the Secretary's staff offices will ^{find} Consultation be mutually helpful.

Finally, let me make it clear to everyone that today's order makes no change whatsoever in either the functions or structure of the Farm Credit Administration. The principal job has been and continues to be the provision of long and short-time credit to agriculture on a sound, self-supporting basis. One of its great sources of strength is the cooperative type of organization ~~which~~ that prevails in it.

There are, however, some problems to be faced. One of the most pressing is the problem of borrowers who are now, in fairly large numbers, delinquent to some of the Federal Land banks. The existing delinquencies, time keep all these and to services to agriculture moving forward toward common objectives."

Just now each day I shall have to have in the field of cooperation

I do not know at this time. Consequently, after consultation with Governor

Black I have included a provision in today's order which authorizes certain staff officers of the Department to establish cooperative liaison relationships with the appropriate offices of the FCA. I am confident that experienced officers of the FCA and of the Secretary's staff offices will be mutually helpful.

no change whatsoever in either the functions or structure of the Farm Credit Administration. The principal job has been and continues to be the provision of long and short-time credit to agriculture on a sound, self-sustaining basis. One of its great sources of strength is the cooperative type of organization ~~which~~ that prevails in it.

There are, however, some problems to be faced. One of the most pressing is the problem of borrowers who are now, in fairly large numbers, delinquent to some of the Federal land banks. The existing delinquency, together with those of the past, have resulted in the impairment of stock in a large number of the National Farm Loan Associations through which farmers secure land bank loans. I heartily endorse former Governor Hill's action of some 3 months ago of suspending foreclosures in areas where farmers have become seriously delinquent. But I do not think we should stop at suspending foreclosures, ^{nor} ~~not~~ do most of the officials of the Farm Credit system -- as a matter of fact, FCA officers have been working out plans for meeting this situation in a constructive way. We of the Department will wholeheartedly support and further these efforts. With all the facilities at our disposal we must study the conditions responsible for the delinquencies, and earnestly seek a solution which will enable the people of these areas to reestablish their economy on a sound basis, and at the same time will maintain the integrity of the land bank system. Only through well-considered, forward-looking action can the loans in these "trouble spots" be placed on the same sound basis as the majority of the land bank loans. If we do not take positive action, rather than resting on suspension of foreclosures, we in the end jeopardize the interests of the great bulk of the farmers who together with those of the past, have resulted in the impairment of stock in a large number of the National Farm Loan Associations through which farmers receive farm loans. I heartily endorse Governor Hill's action become seriously delinquent. But I do not think we should stop at suspending foreclosures, and do most of the officials of the Farm Credit System -- as a matter of fact, FCA officers have been working out plans for meeting this situation in a constructive way. We of the Department will wholeheartedly support and further these efforts. With all the facilities at not take positive action, rather than resting on suspension of foreclosures, we in the end jeopardize the interests of the great bulk of the farmers who cooperatively own a portion of the institutions associated in the Farm Credit System.

I wish heartily to welcome each of you to a closer cooperation with the Department of Agriculture. Close, friendly relationships ^{within} ~~between~~ the whole body of public servants devoted to the cause of agriculture should make for a positive, mutual enrichment. On the negative side, I feel it safe to say that the vast majority of you could, if you wished, go on about your work without any particular reason for knowing that any change has taken place. I hope that, on the contrary, you will find the positive satisfaction that is available in this enlarged association. I welcome you to this association.

Delegation of authority in connection with land utilization projects for which the Forest Service has been or will be designated the custodial agency.

The Chief or Acting Chief of the Forest Service, or any employee of the Department whom either of them may designate in writing, is hereby specifically authorized, on behalf of the United States in connection with the land utilization projects, administered under Title III and related sections of the Bankhead-Jones Farm Tenant Act, for which the Forest Service has been or will be designated the custodial agency, to perform the functions hereinafter outlined. (Creating the 1942 Yearbook Committee on Animal Diseases and Insects)

As one of the current series of volumes dealing with major aspects of agriculture, the 1942 Yearbook will cover the subject of diseases and insects affecting animals. The title tentatively suggested for the book is "Fighting Animal Diseases and Insects."

In addition to giving practical information to farmers and others on this vital subject, there is an opportunity in this Yearbook to sum up some of the notable pioneering achievements of agricultural research in connection with diseases. Nutritional diseases might well be included as an increasingly important part of the picture. Since the work with insects that directly affect human beings is closely related to the work with insects that affect animals, the former would also seem to have a logical place in this volume. The work with insects affecting plants can be reserved for treatment in a later Yearbook.

I am confident that there is enough available material in the Department and the state agencies to make the 1942 Yearbook fully as vital and interesting as those that have preceded it in this series.

As one of the current series of volumes dealing with major aspects of agriculture, the 1942 Yearbook will cover the subject of diseases and insects affecting animals. The title tentatively suggested for the book is "Fighting Animal Diseases and Insects."

In addition to giving practical information to farmers and others on this vital subject, there is an opportunity in this Yearbook to sum up some of the notable pioneering achievements of agricultural research in connection with diseases. Nutritional diseases might well be included as an increasingly important part of the picture. Since the work with insects that directly affect human beings is closely related to the work with insects that affect animals, the former would also seem to have a logical place in this volume. The work with insects affecting plants can be reserved for treatment in a later Yearbook.

I am confident that there is enough available material in the Department and the state agencies to make the 1942 Yearbook fully as vital and interesting as those that have preceded it in this series.

The following committee is appointed to have charge of the plans for the book:

To effectively render the services above indicated and to reduce to a minimum the number of documents that will have to be returned to the Chief of the Sugar Division for signature it is desirable that the Business Manager and the Chief of the Sugar Division be given authority to sign on behalf of the Chief of the Sugar Division. Delegation of authority has been proposed and is attached hereto. It is also necessary that authority to approve vouchers and payments for payment be vested in the Division of Business Administration in order that such vouchers and payments, after audit, may be processed for payment. Signature cards for this purpose have been prepared and are attached.

The estimated cost of performing these services above enumerated for the fiscal year 1940 will amount to $50,000, of which amount $15,510 is for personnel services and $1,130 for purchase of supplies, materials and equipment. It is proposed to make this agreement effective as of June 1, 1939, in order that procedures may be established during the last month of the fiscal year that will insure a smooth operation of all functions beginning July 1, 1939. The actual work of taking over the accounts may not be consummated until June 30, in order to permit the Agricultural Adjustment Administration to complete operating statements for the fiscal year 1939, however, it is proposed to effect certain transfers and appointments of personnel during the month of June, in order that sufficient employees will be available July 1, to properly handle fiscal matters for the Sugar Division for the fiscal year 1940. In order that this may be accomplished with a minimum amount of delay, it is proposed that one CAF-8 salary, one CAF-3 salary, and one CAF-2 salary be carried on the rolls of the Sugar Division for the period of June 1 to June 30, inclusive. These salaries and other expenses for the fiscal year 1940 will be paid from the allotment to be made to the Division of Business Administration for that year's operation.

OF LOANS, GRANTS AND FARM DEBT ADJUSTMENT ACTIVITIES FOR NEEDY PERSONS, UNDER THE RURAL REHABILITATION PROGRAM.

Paragraph 2 of Memorandum No. 796, dated November 16, 1938, is hereby amended to read as follows:

"The Farm Security Administration may make direct grants to farmers, farm tenants, croppers, and farm laborers for the following purposes: (1) subsistence needs, including food, clothing, and shelter; (2) medical care and participation in approved medical or health associations; (3) construction and repair of sanitary facilities and other improvements essential to family health; (4) subsistence livestock, garden seed, fertilizer, and implements and materials for farm, garden and kitchen, to be used for subsistence purposes only; (5) essential household furnishings; and (6) such other purposes as the Administrator may specifically decide to be necessary from time to time to meet emergency situations (such as, among other things, flood, drought, crop failure, insect infestation, cyclones, hailstorms, unseasonable freezes and sharp drops in farm prices). Grants may be made on such terms as will encourage recipients to help themselves and cooperate with the Administration by performing constructive work on the farms they occupy."

OFFICE OF THE ADMINISTRATOR

January 6, 1940.

MEMORANDUM FOR MR. LEON O. WOLCOTT
Assistant to the Secretary.

Dear Mr. Wolcott:

In accordance with the suggestion contained in your memorandum of December 21 we are glad to furnish our definition of the term "emergency situation" as it is used in the proposed amendment to Paragraph 2. of Secretary's Memorandum No. 796. Generally speaking, an emergency situation may be described as any set of circumstances which renders a portion of the farm population, usually able to care for themselves, incapable of meeting their essential needs. The proportion of the population which is made to suffer may be large or small, but, in any case, there must exist an immediate need of assistance which cannot be provided from any other source. The affected area may be large or small. The emergency situation may arise from a large number of causes, among which a few examples are floods, drouths, crop failures, adverse economic forces (such as ruinous prices), insect infestation, cyclones, hailstorms, and unseasonable freezes. The duration of an emergency situation may be comparatively brief, or it may extend over a period of several years.

To illustrate several types of emergency situations, the following examples are cited:

1. In the winter of 1937, as you may recall, a disastrous flood ravaged the Ohio and Mississippi valleys. As a consequence, hundreds of thousands of families living in cities, towns, and open country along the banks of these rivers were made homeless and destitute. This Administration declared an emergency to exist in all open rural areas which were affected and rendered emergency assistance to all families which, by agreement with the other agencies participating, became our responsibility. As soon as the flood had receded and persons in the area were able to resume their normal lives, the extension of emergency assistance was discontinued.
2. As a result of prolonged drouth and dust storms in the so-called "Dustbowl Area" of the Southern Great Plains, a rather extensive emergency was declared to exist in that area in July, 1936. This Administration cared for all affected persons living in open rural areas who could not supply their own needs for subsistence and medical care from their own sources or from WPA employment.

3. Within recent months a situation which has long been developing in the six southeastern counties of Missouri has become acute and it has been necessary for us to extend special emergency aid in that area. The situation in that instance resulted largely from the accumulation over a period of years of adverse economic conditions, such as the loss of sources of supplemental income, and a change in the agricultural economy from a sharecropper system to a mechanized farming system, with the consequent dispossession of a large number of farm tenants.

We are somewhat perplexed by the statement in your memorandum which infers that the administrative problems in connection with our grant program will be very great, principally on account of the fact that many decisions will be made by county committees. As you are probably aware, our regular grant program, which is carried on for the benefit of present loan clients of the Administration and other low-income farmers who are potentially able to help themselves and become less dependent on public aid, does not require the designation of an emergency area. This program is conducted continuously as a regular and customary function of our assistance to low-income farmers. The designation of an emergency situation is resorted to only when persons who would not ordinarily be eligible for assistance are, by reason of a catastrophe or disaster, placed in immediate need. As a rule, such designations and the continuance of emergency aid are temporary in duration. We very frequently ask the advice of local land use planning committees in connection with requests that any particular area be declared an emergency area. It may be that this practice prompted your statement. As a matter of fact, however, final decisions regarding the designation of emergency areas are not made by county committees. Neither in this nor other aspects of our grant activities do we anticipate that our administrative problems in the future will be substantially greater than they are at present. We believe we will be able to handle our somewhat broader and more liberal grant program, as contemplated by the attached proposed memorandum, just as expeditiously as has been the case heretofore. As indicated above, practically all the new provisions in the proposed amendment of Paragraph 2. of Memorandum No. 796 are for the purpose of implementing our regular grant program and not those occasional extraordinary efforts made to relieve so-called emergency situations.

Sincerely yours,

Assistant Administrator.

December 13, 1939.

MEMORANDUM FOR MR. W. A. JUMP
Director of Finance

Dear Mr. Jump:

Attached is memorandum from the Administrator of the Farm Security Administration recommending amendment of Secretary's Memorandum No. 796, dated November 16, 1938, "Prescribing Rules and Regulations * * * under the Rural Rehabilitation Program of the Farm Security Administration.

The proposed amendment will enlarge the purposes for which grants may be made and is stated to be for the purpose of attempting the partial rehabilitation of certain clients who are not now eligible for rehabilitation loans. The enlarged purposes include among others, medical care and participation in approved medical and health associations, construction of sanitary facilities, subsistence livestock, implements for farm garden and kitchen, and essential household furnishings.

The authority for the grants mentioned herein is contained in Section 3(a)-(b) of the "Emergency Relief Appropriation Act of 1939" (Pub. Res. No. 24 - 76th Congress) providing for "relief to needy farmers."

It occurs to me that while medical care for the destitute is a proper relief measure, grants for participation in approved medical and health associations or, in other words, health insurance, can hardly be classed as "relief" in its strict sense. Construction of sanitary facilities, also, does not come within my definition of relief.

The making of grants for the purchase of chattels such as livestock, implements and household furnishings by indigent clients of the Farm Security Administration does not fall within the usual meaning of the word relief. However, and regardless of the technical meaning of the word, it seems to me that for the protection of the Government and of the clients themselves, the amounts necessary to purchase these chattels should be classed as loans and a note

MEMORANDUM FOR MR. W. A. LANE
Director of Finance

Dear Mr. Lane:

Attached is memorandum from the Administrator of the Farm Security Administration recommending amendment of Secretary's Memorandum No. 798, dated November 10, 1938, "Providing Rules and Regulations * * * under the Rural Rehabilitation Program of the Farm Security Administration."

The proposed amendment will enlarge the purposes for which grants may be made and is stated to be for the purpose of extending the partial rehabilitation of certain clients who are not now eligible for rehabilitation loans. The enlarged purposes include among others, medical care and participation in approved medical and health activities, construction of sanitary facilities, and purchase livestock, implements for farm garden and kitchen, and essential household furnishings.

The authority for the grant mentioned herein is contained in Section 3(a)-(b) of the "Emergency Relief Appropriation Act of 1938" (Pub. Law, No. 24 - 76th Congress) providing for "relief to needy farmers."

It occurs to me that while medical care for the destitute is a proper relief measure, grants for participation in approved medical and health activities and, in other words, health insurance, can hardly be classed as "relief" in the strict sense. Construction of sanitary facilities, also, does not seem within my definition of relief.

The intent of grants for the purchase of livestock such as livestock, implements and household furnishings by indigent clients of the Farm Security Administration does not fall within the usual meaning of the word relief. However, and regardless of the technical meaning of the word, it seems to me that for the protection of the Government and of the clients themselves, the amount necessary to purchase these effects should be classed as loans and a note and mortgage secured with chattels as security. This would protect the Government against the sale of the property by the dishonest or those sorely pressed for cash for emergency needs, and protect the clients against attachment of the chattels by other and less sympathetic creditors. I think this would also add to the chances for eventual complete rehabilitation of many of the present relief clients. Moreover, this would appear to be a better fiscal policy and businesslike practice, even though it is realized that the value of the chattels may in time be lost and the loan for such purposes never repaid.

As one further thought, the making of a loan to these indigent persons, even though for only a portion of their present needs, would perhaps serve as an incentive for additional effort on their part to justify the apparent belief of the Government in their ultimate restoration to self-sufficiency.

I would not have you think the AR&SA Section unsympathetic toward the plight of these destitute farmers, nor unappreciative of the problems confronting the Farm Security Administration in attempting to alleviate existing conditions. Consequently, I raise no strong question relative to grants to the needy for subsistence and health purposes. Therefore, this memorandum is for the purpose of bringing the provisions of the proposal to your attention and more particularly to express the opinion that for the protection of the Government and the client, the amount granted to the client for the purchase of attachable chattels be considered a loan secured by a lien on the chattels, and the amount necessary for supplies disposed of in use considered solely as a grant or gift.

Respectfully submitted,

A. McC. Ashley,

and mortgage secured with chattels as security. This would protect the Government against the sale of the property by the borrower or these surpluses for cash for emergency needs, and protect the clients against attachment of the chattels by other and less sympathetic creditors. I think this would also add to the value for eventual complete rehabilitation of many of the present relief clients. Moreover, this would appear to be a better fiscal policy and businesslike practice, even though it is realized that the value of the chattels may in time be lost and the loan for such purposes never repaid.

As one further thought, the making of a loan to these individuals, even though for only a portion of their present needs, would perhaps serve as an incentive for individual effort on their part to justify the support belief of the Government in their right to make restoration to self-sufficiency.

I would not have you think the Alaska Section unappreciative of the rights of these destitute farmers, nor unappreciative of the problems confronting the Fair Security Administration in attempting to alleviate existing conditions. Consequently, I raise no strong question relative to grants to the needy for subsistence and health purposes. However, this memorandum is for the purpose of bringing the provisions of the proposal to your attention and more particularly to express the opinion that for the protection of the Government and the client, the amount granted to the client for the purchase of essential chattels be limited to a loan secured by a lien on the chattels, and the amount necessary for supplies disposed of in an unsecured sale as a grant or gift.

Respectfully submitted,

A. McG. Ashley,

MAR 11 1940 B

Please return to the Secretary's File Room

Pursuant to the President's letter of August 7, 1939, addressed to all Government agencies, I recently requested the chiefs of bureaus and offices of the Department of Agriculture to survey the activities and expenditures for which they are responsible and then to report to me on possible administrative improvements, economies in operations, and related matters.

In order that the many suggestions and recommendations submitted in these reports may receive adequate consideration, and at the same time to provide more permanently for department-wide study and improvement in such matters, the Departmental Coordinating Committee established by Memorandum No. 702, dated December 3, 1936, is hereby reconstituted as the Administrative Council of the Department. The Council will consist of:

Assistant to the Secretary (Mr. Appleby), Chairman
The Director of Finance
The Director of Personnel
The Land Use Coordinator
The Director of Research
The Director of Extension Work
The Acting Director of Information
The Director of Marketing and Regulatory Work
The Solicitor

Generally, worth-while improvements in administration must come primarily from intensive effort within each operating agency. Additionally, the Department as a whole must constantly study its management methods and ever be on the alert to develop better administrative methods, economies in operation, better organization; in short, must constantly seek out the most efficient methods of operation.

The Department of Agriculture is unique, perhaps, in having several coordinating staff offices which constantly give attention to these questions in certain fields. Three of the Department's staff

MEMORANDUM NO. 852

Establishment of Administrative Council

In response to the President's letter of August 7, 1937, I recently requested the chiefs of bureaus and offices of the Department of Agriculture to survey the activities and expenditures for which they are responsible and then to report to me on possible administrative improvements, economies in operations, and related matters.

In order that the many suggestions and recommendations submitted in these reports may receive adequate consideration, and so the same time to provide more permanently for department-wide study and improvement in such matters, the Departmental Coordinating Committee established by Memorandum No. 705, dated December 8, 1935, is hereby reconstituted as the Administrative Council of the Department. The Council will consist of:

- Assistant to the Secretary (Mr. Appleby), Chairman
- The Director of Finance
- The Director of Personnel
- The Land Use Coordinator
- The Director of Research
- The Director of Extension Work
- The Acting Director of Information
- The Director of Marketing and Regulatory Work
- The Solicitor

Generally, worthwhile improvements in administration must come primarily from intensive effort within each operating agency. Additionally, the Department as a whole must constantly study the management methods and strive on the alert to develop better administrative methods, economies in operation, better organization, in short, must constantly seek out the most efficient methods of operation.

The Department of Agriculture is unique, perhaps, in having several operating staff offices which constantly give attention to these questions in certain fields. Three of the Department's staff offices -- Budget and Finance, Personnel, and Land Use Coordination -- devote considerable time to and are by regulation and practice responsible for many phases of organization, administration, and management.

A great many problems, however, are not limited to any one of the fields of work now covered by departmental coordinating offices. They often involve combinations of several or in some cases all such offices. The Administrative Council will provide an orderly and systematic means for consideration of matters involving such joint concern. The Chairman of the Administrative Council is authorized to establish special committees or sub-committees to handle particular problems. Through a special committee on administrative management, for example, we may obtain departmental consideration of proposals and recommendations in that field.

Bureau chiefs may request the services of the Administrative Council; studies will be conducted in cooperation with the bureau, and recommendations will be submitted to the bureau chief. The Secretary will refer problems to the Council from time to time. Studies may also be initiated by the Council itself.

It goes without saying that we should never assume we have achieved perfection in the over-all organization of the Department. At the same time I believe the staff functions are now organized and functioning in a way that we may anticipate steady improvement in programming and administration. The Bureau of Agricultural Economics (a staff agency in its general planning work) is cooperating with all agencies in formulating common objectives. The Agricultural Program Board is constantly reviewing all programs for soundness and feasibility. The Directors' offices are providing for departmental coordination of specific functions, policies, and programs. The Administrative Council will henceforth help to improve the efficiency of the Department as a dynamic administrative agency.

The cooperation of all agencies of the Department will be sought by the Administrative Council and this Council will welcome suggestions and recommendations from all members of the Department.

Roy F. Hendrickson, Director of Personnel
W. A. Jump, Budget and Finance

The purpose of this committee is:

1. To give preliminary consideration to the programs of work for the Administrative Council.
2. To dispose of problems not sufficiently important to warrant the attention of the full Council or of such urgency as to make it inexpedient to wait for a full Council meeting.
3. To consider proposals, studies and recommendations relating to administrative management which seem to need Departmental consideration.

The Executive Secretary of the Council, Charles McKinley, will act as Executive officer of the Executive Committee.

The thoughtful suggestions which were contributed by you some months ago in response to the Secretary's request concerning the possibility of administrative improvements and economies in operation are being studied by the Administrative Council. The Council will welcome your continued interest in this subject and will be grateful for suggestions from you at any time which may further the general objectives of its work.

action under the Capper Bill

The Capper bill, S. 650, recently introduced into the Congress, is designed to provide a single focal point for the Department's widespread interest in cooperatives to the end that a coordinated and progressive program in this field may be developed. The bill would establish a Division of Cooperatives in the Department or in one of the bureaus with the following functions: (a) to conduct research in cooperative problems and furnish advisory service to cooperatives; (b) to assemble, compile, and maintain for reference and distribution statistical data relating to cooperative enterprises generally, and as affected by the laws of the United States, the several States, and foreign countries; (c) to disseminate available information and materials for the use and benefit of established cooperatives and cooperative projects; (d) to serve as a source of cooperation and information with respect to the establishment and maintenance of cooperatives by distributing upon request standard forms and outlines for use and reference, especially in connection with organization work or in any manner otherwise helpful to producers and consumers in cooperative buying and selling; and (e) that the facilities, services, and materials provided shall be available alike to producer and consumer cooperatives.

The Administrative Council is now studying the problem of the proper location of these functions. There is hereby established a special Sub-committee of the Council to advise the Council on ways of implementing the aims of the legislation in such a manner that the interests of the several agencies of the Department whose activities carry them into the cooperative field may be best served.

MEMORANDUM FOR THE SECRETARY dp

Dear Mr. Secretary:

On January 31, just before my transfer to the Farm Credit Administration, I sent you a memorandum resigning from the various committees to which I had been appointed as Director of Extension Work. Among these was the TVA Coordinating Committee, which was made up of Dean T. P. Cooper of Kentucky, representing the Land-Grant colleges; Mr. J. C. McAmis, representing the TVA; and me, representing the Department. I now have a letter from Dean Cooper, chairman of the committee, stating that the semi-annual meeting of the committee with the experiment station and extension directors from the several States will be held on April 2.

I am writing now to suggest that, if someone else is to represent the Department on this important committee, it would be desirable to make the appointment soon so that the Department representative could plan to attend the meeting on April 2.

MEMORANDUM NO. 855

Discontinuation of Freight Rate and Routing Service
By the Procurement Division.

Because of the emergency situation created by the sudden termination of freight rate and routing service heretofore furnished by the Procurement Division, Treasury Department, it becomes necessary to modify, as hereinafter provided, Department of Agriculture Regulation No. 3324, subparagraph 7. Pending the establishment of adequate departmental traffic facilities, the following emergency procedures will become effective immediately:

1. To avoid dissipation of the Department's limited traffic resources on minor transactions, invitations for bids issued from Washington or a point in the field which it is believed will involve the movement of not more than 5,000 pounds of freight may call for destination prices only.
2. Invitations for bids issued in Washington or the field involving movement of freight estimated to exceed 5,000 pounds in weight shall conform with the present practice of soliciting prices both at shipping point and destination. In these instances, freight rates will be furnished by the Division of Purchase, Sales and Traffic of the Office of Budget and Finance, upon request in the customary manner.
3. Less carload rail freight or express shipments moving on a Government bill of lading may be made without detailed routing instructions, but the bill of lading must show the name of the initial carrier and bear in the space provided for route orders the notation "Forward via lowest reasonable available route."

When a substantial interest of the Department can be subserved thereby, routing instructions will be furnished by the Division of Purchase, Sales and Traffic, to cover carload, or water, or rail-water shipments.

DISCONTINUANCE OF LAND GRANT FREIGHT RATES AND ITS EFFECT ON BID PROCEDURES.

Please return to the Secretary's File Room

Section 321, Title III, Part II, of the Transportation Act of 1940, restricts application of land grant freight rates to transportation of "military or naval property of the United States moving for military or naval and not for civil use." It also authorizes land grant rail carriers to charge full commercial freight rates for all other Government shipments, provided such rail carriers have filed releases of any claim against the Government to lands or pertaining to lands. From time to time releases filed by the carriers and approved by the Secretary of the Interior were announced in Budget and Finance circulars, and on April 16, 1941, the Secretary of the Interior approved the release filed by the Northern Pacific Railroad Company, thus completing the approval of all applications for land grant releases on all the land grant railroads throughout the United States.

The long required practice of soliciting bids on a dual delivery basis (i.e., f.o.b. shipping point and delivered destination) was for the purpose of saving for the Government the difference between commercial freight rates and the lower land grant freight rates; however, since land grant freight rates no longer apply to Government shipments for civil uses, the Department's bid procedures are modified as follows:

- (1). Secretary's Memorandum No. 855, dated March 19, 1940, is hereby rescinded and concurrently superseded by this memorandum, which likewise modifies Department Regulation No. 3324, paragraph 7.
- (2). Invitations for bids for supplies, materials, and equipment, excepting those intended to develop shipping point prices for purposes of letting term contracts, will hereafter call for prices f.o.b. destination only, regardless of commodity or weight, provided no special rates have been made available to the Government.

- (3). In the event special rates are available for general application to Government shipments for civil use from the shipping point of any bidder, or if for any other reason it appears advantageous to use a Government bill of lading for consolidation of shipments or shipment by water or motor truck, the invitation for bids should contain the following reservation:

"The Department of Agriculture reserves the right to make shipment on a Government bill of lading or otherwise provide transportation, in which event there will be deducted from the bidder's destination price the cost of all rail freight from the shipping point or points to the destination or destinations stated in the schedule for the actual shipping weight, unless other rates and the amount of the freight, which the bidder agrees may be deducted, are specifically stated by the bidder in his bid."

In those instances where special rates are available for general application from the shipping point of any bidder, the following provision for offers to equalize savings in transportation costs should also be used.

"Bidders should indicate here whether they will agree to equalize the savings in transportation costs through availability of special rates for general application to Government shipments for civil use from the shipping point of any bidder.

Yes _____ No _____"

Although special freight privileges in the form of land grant deductions are no longer applicable to civil Government shipments, carriers may still offer special rates under Section 22 of the Interstate Commerce Act, which suggests that proposed single movements of unusually large tonnage, especially in the higher freight classifications, should be reported to the Chief, Division of Purchase, Sales, and Traffic for advance consideration. Repetitive carload shipments exceeding 25 cars in a year should likewise be reported for consideration from the standpoint of developing commodity or other forms of preferential rates for such shipments.

For further information concerning these changes, please communicate with the Chief, Division of Purchase, Sales, and Traffic, Room 1870 South Building Telephone Branch 6200.

Under Secretary.

In those instances where special rates are available for general application from the shipping point of any bidder, the following provision for others to equalize savings in transportation costs should also be used.

"Bidders should indicate here whether they will agree to equalize the savings in transportation costs through availability of special rates for general application to Government shipments for civil use from the shipping point of any bidder."

Department Committee on Rural Human Welfare

It is desirable that the Department's programs be re-examined as a whole to determine whether they are making their maximum potential contribution in terms of rural human welfare. I am anxious that a reexamination be made which will take particular account of those groups of rural people who are finding it increasingly difficult or impossible to establish and maintain themselves on the land.

Such a reexamination will involve analysis of such factors as the long-time trends of farm population growth, the impact of agricultural technology, the present and prospective status of various rural groups, together with an evaluation of the objectives and methods of Department programs as they relate to rural human welfare. Close attention should also be given to the activities, objectives and methods of other public agencies in the same or kindred fields.

To conduct this reexamination and to make recommendations to me, I am establishing herewith a Department Committee on Rural Human Welfare with Mr. Claude R. Wickard, Under Secretary, as chairman, with other members as follows:

MEMORANDUM FOR THE SECRETARY

Dear Mr. Secretary:

These are attached a draft of a proposed delegation of authority to this Service, in connection with set-offs against the purchase price of lands to be acquired under Title III of the Hamilton-Jones Farm Tenant Act, to make the findings required by Section 49, Title IV, of this act, that such set-offs will not adversely affect the objectives of the act. Under the proposed delegation of authority, where it is found that a set-off will adversely affect the objectives of the act, such finding is to be submitted to you for review.

It is believed that such a delegation of authority to this Service will facilitate the handling of requests for set-offs against the purchase of land being acquired under Title III of the act. Accordingly, this proposed delegation, which was prepared by the Solicitor, is submitted for your consideration with my recommendation for approval.

Sincerely,

Chief.

By means of Budget Bureau Circular No. 347, dated April 15, 1940, the Director of the Bureau of the Standardized Government Travel Regulations, having amendments to the Standardized Government Travel Regulations:

"1. The first sentence of Section 4 of the Standardized Government Travel Regulations, relating to subsistence allowances, is hereby amended to read as follows:

"Subsistence allowance is provided for an employee's subsistence or equivalent, or by law, the official authorized to make travel orders may authorize in the order a per diem allowance not to exceed $5 in lieu of subsistence expenses, while traveling on official business within the limits of the continental United States, except where such travel is restricted to some of a restricted-area travel. No per diem allowance shall be paid unless the travel is actually undertaken in service, in which event the per diem allowance may be paid at a rate not to exceed $5."

"2. The last sentence in the quoted paragraph of Budget Bureau Circular No. 347, dated March 27, 1937, amending Section 4 of the Standardized Government Travel Regulations, is hereby amended to read as follows:

"When the cost of transportation by air is in excess of the cost of other available transportation, taking into consideration safety and subsistence savings, and there is no existing emergency involving the loss of life or property, transportation by commercial air lines may be specifically authorized or approved in each case by the head of the department, establishment, or agency concerned, or by such a responsible officer of the Government, established by an agency concerned as the head thereof, or by the head of the first instance."

"3. The last sentence in the quoted paragraph of Budget Circular No. 348 of July 18, 1939, amending Section 15 of the Standardized Government Travel Regulations, is hereby amended to read as follows:

'When the cost of transportation by extra-fare trains is in excess of the cost of travel by regular fare trains, taking into consideration salary and subsistence savings, and there is no existing emergency involving the loss of life or property, transportation by extra-fare trains must be specifically authorized or approved in each case by the head of the executive department, establishment or agency concerned, or by such a responsible officer of the department, establishment, or agency concerned as the head thereof may designate for that purpose.'*

"4. Paragraph 36 of the Standardized Government Travel Regulations is hereby amended by inserting an additional sentence at the end thereof to read as follows:

'If transportation requests which have been reported lost or stolen are subsequently recovered, said requests should be immediately cancelled by the officer or employee recovering same and promptly forwarded to the officer who issued them.'

Pursuant to the authority vested in me by the above quoted amendments numbered 2 and 3, I hereby designate the Director of Finance, or in the event of his absence or inability so to act, the Acting Director of Finance, to approve such transportation by commercial air lines and extra-fare trains as has heretofore required specific approval by the Secretary; i.e., transportation by commercial air lines and extra-fare trains costing more than other available transportation, taking into consideration salary and subsistence savings, in cases where such transportation is not necessitated by an emergency involving the loss of life or property.

Approval pursuant to the designation made in the preceding paragraph will be granted only in those cases where it is definitely established that the additional cost involved is necessary in the public interest. It is incumbent upon chiefs of bureaus and others directing travel to cooperate in keeping such additional costs to a minimum by restricting requests for approval thereof to instances where they are convinced there is complete justification. Advance approval should be requested in every case where time permits, and any requests for post-approval must include a satisfactory explanation of why advance approval was not obtained.

SELECTIVE TRAINING AND SERVICE

Please return to the Secretary's File Room

As the result of passage of the Selective Training and Service Act of 1940 and Public Resolution No. 96, 76th Congress, a substantial number of employees of the Department will be called for training in the military service of the United States during the next twelve months. This will include members of the National Guard and Reserve contingents of the armed forces of the United States as well as several thousand employees of all bureaus and offices of the Department who are eligible for training under the Selective Training and Service Act of 1940.

Every man within the age group of 21 to 35, inclusive, will present himself for and submit to registration at a duly designated place of registration within the precinct, district, or registration area in which he has his permanent home or in which he may happen to be on the date set by Presidential proclamation.

The first registration under the Selective Training and Service Act of 1940 will take place on Wednesday, the 16th day of October 1940 between the hours of 7 a.m. and 9 p.m. Employees of the Department who are subject to registration shall be excused from the performance of their regular duties for a period of sufficient duration to enable them to present themselves for and submit to registration. Such time off shall not be charged against annual or any other type of leave and shall be granted without loss of pay.

It is the desire and the intention of the Department to cooperate in every way in the furtherance of the National Defense Program of the Congress and the President; at the same time we are advised that in so far as possible the effective operation of non-military programs of national interest should not be jeopardized by mobilization.

One of the difficult problems of the Department over the next few months will be, therefore, to cooperate fully with the defense program while at the same time attempting to preserve an adequate staff of key personnel.

Such time off shall not be charged against annual or any other type of leave and shall be granted without loss of pay.

It is the desire and the intention of the Department to cooperate in every way in the furtherance of the National Defense Program of the Congress and the President; at the same time we are advised that in so far as possible the effective operation of non-military programs of national interest should not be jeopardized by mobilization.

One of the difficult problems of the Department over the next few months will be, therefore, to cooperate fully with the defense program while at the same time attempting to preserve an adequate staff of key personnel.

Deferrals and exemptions are, quite properly, limited. Both the Guard and Reserves mobilization resolution and the Selective Service Act provide for the deferment of certain necessary civilian employees. The Resolution authorizing mobilization of the National Guard and Army Reserves (Public Resolution No. 96, 76th Congress) vests discretion in the President to call "any or all members and units" into active service for one year.

The Selective Training and Service Act of 1940 (Public No. 783, 76th Congress) specifically authorizes the President "To provide for the deferment from training and service . . . of any person holding an office . . . under the United States or any State, Territory, or the District of Columbia, whose continued service in such office is found . . . to be necessary to the maintenance of the public health, safety, or interest." The Act further provides that "no deferment from such training or service shall be made in the case of any individual except on the basis of the status of such individual, and no such deferment shall be made of individuals by occupational groups or of groups of individuals in any plant or institution." Provision is also made for the deferment of those men in a status with respect to persons dependent upon them for support which renders their deferment advisable.

Although it is realized that a substantial number of registrants from the Department will be included in the latter group and that many others are not holding key positions, there will be cases where a deferment of an individual will be extremely important to the Department.

Local registration boards are empowered to hear and determine, subject to the right of appeal, all questions or claims with respect to inclusion for, or exemption or deferment from, training and service under the Selective Training and Service Act of 1940.

It is highly desirable to have a common Departmental viewpoint on the question of deferments and of course only those which are fully justified will be approved by the local board. When such action is necessary, chiefs of bureaus and offices should not hesitate to recommend deferments to the local boards in order to protect the broader interests of the Government, irrespective of whether the employee has indicated his desire to be deferred. The wishes of the individual in such a case should be subordinated to the needs of the Government. No office is authorized to recommend the deferment of an employee to a local board without express authority, telegraphic or otherwise, from the chief of bureau or office in the particular case.

It should be emphasized that all registrants will not immediately be called for service, but that such calls will be made over an extended period of months. In order to reduce the impact of the temporary loss of employees from the Department and to minimize the need for deferment, steps should immediately be taken (1) to make provisions for the training of employees to fill the positions of those who probably will be called for service, (2) to anticipate such recruiting measures as will be necessary, (3) to ascertain immediately the names of employees registered, make a study of each individual case and to determine whether from the bureau standpoint the interest of the Government could best be served by retention in his present position, and (4) to submit recommendations of the chief of bureau or office with supporting data to the Director of Personnel for decision in accordance with Departmental policy.

No deferments from training and service will be made in the case of any individual except upon the basis of the status of such individual and no such deferment will be made of individuals by occupational groups or of groups of individuals in any organization.

In recommending deferments bureaus and offices should consider the difficulty of replacing an individual, the time required to train suitable substitutes; the particular type of work, primarily its importance in relation to national health, safety, and interest, and secondarily to the programs of the Department; and the desirability of having employees complete extremely important assignments. Such recommendation might include men in policy-forming positions and supervisory or nonsupervisory employees who because of special knowledge and ability in a particular area of essential activity could not be removed or replaced without seriously handicapping the program with which they are concerned. Professional and other employees engaged in work projects closely related to the national defense might also be recommended for deferment.

In any case deferments on the basis of importance to the Department should be requested only after it is clear that no deferment for other reasons, such as dependents or physical disability, will be permitted for the particular employee involved.

In those few cases where time does not permit the submission of a recommendation for deferment to the Director of Personnel for advice as to policy, the bureau chief will act thereon and return the recommendation to the local registration board. Within ten days a report on the case will be submitted to the Director of Personnel containing the name of the individual, location of his station, title and grade of his position, and the reasons upon which deferment was recommended.

It should be borne in mind that no exemption or deferment from training and service under the Selective Training and Service Act will continue after the cause therefor ceases to exist.

In order to insure a consistent Departmental policy which will be in consonance with Government-wide policy, an Advisory Committee on Selective Service is hereby appointed which will be available for the guidance and assistance of bureau chiefs in matters relating to

The President, on February 9, 1942, notified heads of departments as follows:

"It is essential that an equitable and uniform practice be followed in applying the provisions of the Selective Service and Training Act of 1940 to officers and employees in the Federal service.

The policy with respect to deferment from military training and service on occupational grounds recommended in the attached memorandum, dated February 5, 1942, has my approval, and all concerned will be governed accordingly."

Quoted in part below are the contents of the above mentioned memorandum, dealing with deferment on occupational grounds:

"1. Request for the deferment from service under the Selective Training and Service Act, approved September 16, 1940, as amended, of any officer or employee of the United States government shall be made only by the head of the agency, or by a person designated by such head to take such action. Such request must be made on the form or forms prescribed by the Selective Service system.

2. No such request for deferment shall be made except when the head of the appropriate agency, or a person designated by him, shall certify that

(a) The officer or employee is in a position, the duties of which are clearly related to the war effort or to essential supporting activities, and that

(b) The officer or employee is in a type of position listed by the Selective Service system as one in which it is difficult to obtain replacements, or a type of position in which he cannot be readily replaced except by the training of a successor through work experience for a period of at least six months.

3. The initial request for deferment will, in accordance with Selective Service regulations, be for a period of not to exceed six months. If the duties of the position occupied by the officer or employee are of a type which require work experience of less than two years to attain a reasonable competence in their performance, the appropriate agency will take immediate steps to train a successor.

4. Request for deferment beyond the initial six month period will not be made except when the head of the department shall certify that one of the following conditions exists:

(a) That to attain reasonable competence in the performance of the duties of the position occupied by the officer or employee requires work experience of two years or more.

(b) That a replacement has been secured but that a further period of training is required before the trainee is qualified to assume the responsibilities of the position.

(c) That the Selective Service system has found that a shortage of persons with the qualifications required in the position exists and it has been impossible to secure a replacement.

5. The heads of all departments, independent establishments and other Federal agencies will immediately make an inventory of officers and employees who, in all probability, will be placed in class 1-A and, where necessary, recruit and begin the training of persons who, when the officers or employees now holding the positions are inducted into the military service, will be ready to assume the duties and responsibilities of the positions thus made vacant."

The essential elements of this policy were adopted by the Department of Agriculture immediately following the enactment of the Selective Training and Service Act. An inventory of the type requested in paragraph 5 was made at that time by each bureau and office in the Department. Bureaus and offices should keep up-to-date information as to employees likely to be placed in class 1-A, and take steps to recruit and train necessary replacements.

The Director of Personnel is authorized to request deferment of employees of the Department of Agriculture in appropriate cases, and to make the certifications required. MEMORANDUM NO. 877, SUPPLEMENT NO. 4

Selective Training and Service

The Department has received the following memorandum from the President, dated November 17, 1942:

"I am most anxious to make sure that no man should be deferred from military service by reason of his employment in any Federal department or agency either in Washington or in any other place.

If any such deferment has been given to anyone within your respective jurisdiction, would you please arrange for cancellation thereof as soon as possible and notify the Selective Service Board having jurisdiction? No further requests for deferment by reason of such employment should be made either by the agency or by the employee.

I am sure that in the overwhelming number of cases, this action will be welcomed by the young men themselves who are involved.

I know that in certain technical or highly scientific or specialized branches of the service there are a few employees who, by reason of unique experience, are really irreplaceable by women or older men. If there are any which in your opinion fall within this category, will you please write me the full details of them so that their cases may be passed on individually."

In view of this memorandum, all existing instructions in the Department of Agriculture with respect to deferments, and requests for deferments, are hereby rescinded in so far as they may be in conflict with the President's statement quoted above.

COMMITTEE 3

EXECUTIVE ORDER 9309

CONTROLLING GOVERNMENT REQUESTS FOR THE SELECTIVE SERVICE DEFERMENT OF FEDERAL EMPLOYEES

By virtue of the authority vested in me by the Constitution and statutes (including the Selective Training and Service Act of 1940, as amended) as President of the United States, and in order to further the prosecution of the war by conserving and most effectively utilizing manpower and by systematizing the handling of necessary selective service occupational deferment of employees in the Executive branch of the Federal Government, it is ordered as follows:

I. LIMITATIONS ON RIGHT TO REQUEST OCCUPATIONAL DEFERMENT

1. No agency shall request the selective service deferment of any employee on occupational grounds except in accordance with the provisions of this Order. No employee shall initiate a request for his own deferment on occupational grounds or advocate the making of such a request on his own behalf.

2. No such request shall be made unless it is determined, in the manner herein provided, that the employee's civilian services are essential in that the loss thereof would substantially impair activities essential to the war effort (including necessary supporting activities and the maintenance of the national health, safety, and interest). In determining whether such an employee's services are thus essential, consideration shall be given to all relevant factors, including the actual effectiveness of the employee, the difficulty of replacing him, his age, his qualifications, his assignment to duties outside the continental United States and the length of his service in the position he occupies or in positions with comparable duties.

3. No such request shall be made for a period longer than is deemed to be absolutely necessary nor for a period of more than six months.

II. ESTABLISHMENT OF COMMITTEES

1. The Chairman of the War Manpower Commission (hereinafter referred to as the Chairman) shall designate with the approval of the President a chairman and two members of a War Manpower Commission committee to be known as the Review Committee on Deferment of Government Employees (hereinafter referred to as the Review Committee). Such Committee shall be subject to the supervision and direction of the Chairman.

2. The head of each agency shall designate a Committee on Deferment of Government Employees (hereinafter referred to as an Agency Committee), of three to five members possessing a comprehensive view of the needs of the agency. For the purposes of this Order the Government of the District of Columbia shall be deemed to be an agency. Each Agency Committee shall be subject to the supervision and direction of the head of the agency.

3. When authorized by the Review Committee, the head of any agency may also designate regional committees whenever the number and geographical distribution of the personnel of the agency make such action desirable. Within their respective areas such regional committees shall have the authority and responsibility of an Agency Committee; and as used in this Order the term "Agency Committee" shall include a regional committee established under this section.

III. DESIGNATION OF KEY POSITIONS

1. Each Agency Committee, with the approval of the head of the agency, shall submit to the Review Committee for its approval a list of those positions in the agency deemed necessary to carry out activities essential to the war effort or to necessary supporting activities. All such positions approved by the Review Committee shall be known as "key positions." The Review Committee, either on its own motion or upon recommendation made by the Agency Committee and approved by the head of the agency, may revise the list of key positions of that agency as conditions warrant.

2. Key positions shall be limited to positions involving serious difficulty of replacement because a scarcity of available qualified personnel exists and because any incumbent of the position must have had, in order to perform the duties effectively, an extended period of training or specialized experience. The designation of key positions shall be further governed by the following criteria:

a. The work is of a responsible administrative, executive, or supervisory character in activities directly related to the war effort, or to the essential maintenance of orderly government (including the maintenance of the health, morale, and security of the nation); or

b. The work is a part of the actual production, transportation, or handling of war materials, equipment, or commodities, or of the maintenance or operation of war equipment, or of the transportation of war personnel; or

c. The work is of a professional, semiprofessional, or highly specialized character, requiring extended training, in an occupation where a known scarcity of manpower exists; or

d. The work usually requires male employees because of peculiar circumstances or requisite physical abilities, including the occupations of seamen, investigatory agents, forest rangers, border patrolmen, prison guards, and other comparable occupations wherein replacement within necessary age limits is difficult.

IV. REQUESTS FOR DEFERMENT

1. In accordance with the provisions of this Order, and subject to the limitations set forth in Part I hereof, an Agency Committee may, in cases not covered by the Replacement Schedule procedure set forth in paragraph 5 of this Part, prepare and submit to the appropriate local selective service board a request for the occupational deferment of—

a. Any employee of the agency who occupies a key position and whose civilian services are essential within the meaning of paragraph 2 of Part I hereof.

b. Any employee of the agency not occupying a key position whose civilian services are essential within the meaning of paragraph 2 of Part I hereof, if unusual and special circumstances, such as the employee's unique fitness for the work or unique familiarity with a specific project in the course of completion make such deferment request necessary. No request for deferment shall be made under this subparagraph except with the prior specific approval of the Review Committee.

2. Subject to the conditions set forth in this Order, the Agency Committees shall make all requests for selective service occupational deferment of employees of their respective agencies, and shall prepare and submit such requests to local selective service boards in accordance with selective service regulations.

3. In preparing the prescribed selective service form for submitting a request for occupational deferment to the local selective service board, the Agency Committee shall enter on such form the words "Government Request," and shall also indicate thereon the name of the agency and the subordinate part thereof in which the registrant is employed.

4. In any case in which a Government request for deferment is denied by a local selective service board, the Agency Committee concerned shall at once file an appeal from such action. The appeal shall stay the induction of the employee affected until final decision in the case.

5. The Chairman, upon his own motion or upon recommendation made by an Agency Committee and approved by the head of the agency, shall determine, after consultation with the Review Committee, those manufacturing, servicing, operating, and transporting activities of an agency or part thereof with respect to which deferment problems can be best met through use of manning tables and replacement schedules. He shall thereupon direct the head of the agency concerned to prepare and use, with respect to those activities or organizations, manning tables and replacement schedules, in accordance with the regulations prescribed by the Chairman. Such agency or part thereof shall thereafter be exempt from the provisions of Part III of this Order (providing for the designation of key positions) and the provisions of this Order governing the making of requests for deferment of employees to the extent and in the respects provided in the regulations of the Chairman.

V. VOLUNTARY ENTRANCE INTO ARMED FORCES

1. Unless an Agency Committee has requested or would request deferment of an employee under this Order, the agency, upon his request, shall grant him a release to enter the armed forces voluntarily in a commissioned or enlisted status.

2. If an Agency Committee has requested or would request deferment of an employee under this Order, the agency shall deny him such a release unless it is determined that:

- a. The employee is likely to be assigned to active combat service; or
- b. The employee's skills and ability probably will be utilized equally or more effectively in the armed forces.

3. In the case of an employee who is in a deferred classification, or who is not subject to induction, for reasons unrelated to his occupation, such a release shall be granted or denied without regard to such reasons, in accordance with the provisions of paragraphs 1 and 2 of this Part.

4. When an Agency Committee denies release of an employee, such action shall upon his request be reviewed by the Review Committee. The Agency Committee shall be notified of the final decision, and if the denial is affirmed, such committee shall immediately notify the employee's local selective service board.

VI. DEPENDENCY--OCCUPATIONAL RECLASSIFICATION

Agency Committees may make requests for the selective service reclassification from Class III-A to Class III-B of employees other than those engaged in occupations designated by the Chairman as non-deferable. Such requests shall be made in accordance with standards, to be prescribed by the Chairman, for determining the relationship of employees' activities to the war effort, which standards shall conform, as nearly as may be, to the standards applicable to such reclassification in the case of persons not in the Federal service.

VII. GENERAL PROVISIONS

1. Under regulations to be prescribed by the Chairman, the Agency Committee in each agency shall supervise the preparation and maintenance, on a current basis, of adequate statistics on the selective service status of its male employees, and on related matters, which shall be summarized and reported to the Review Committee at periodic intervals.

2. Heads of agencies shall issue special instructions to insure that an employee will immediately report through proper channels any change in his selective service status or the receipt of notice to report for induction.

3. Each agency shall plan and carry out an orderly program of replacement and training occasioned by the entry or prospective entry of employees into the armed forces, on the basis of the information provided for in paragraph 1 of this Part of this Order.

4. The Chairman shall from time to time make recommendations to the Director of the Bureau of the Budget, based on information and experience acquired in the administration of this Order, for the effective utilization of the services of Government employees with respect to the conservation of manpower.

5. Under regulations to be prescribed by the Chairman, the several agencies shall submit to the Review Committee periodic reports concerning all action taken under this Order. The Review Committee shall currently review such reports and shall consult with Agency Committees with respect to any departures from this Order. The Review Committee may also designate representatives to attend meetings of Agency Committees. Such representatives shall at all times have full access to all records of such Committees.

6. The Chairman shall report to the President, at intervals of not more than three months, with respect to the administration of this Order and shall make recommendations to the President with respect to such modifications of this Order as he may deem advisable.

7. The Chairman may suspend the authority of any Agency Committee to submit requests for deferment if the Agency Committee submits requests in violation of this Order.

8. A request for deferment of an employee may be cancelled by the Review Committee if it determines that the request was made in violation of this Order.

9. The Chairman shall furnish copies of this Order to all local selective service boards.

10. The Chairman may delegate any of his duties and powers under this Order to any officer or employee of the War Manpower Commission and may utilize the services of any Federal officer, employee, or agency.

11. The Chairman shall prescribe such regulations as may be necessary to carry out the purposes of this Order, including such additional criteria for the designation of key positions as he may deem necessary.

Certification of Long Distance Telephone Calls

The Interior Department Appropriation Act, 1940, 53 Stat. 738, provides that no appropriation be used for the payment of long distance telephone tolls except for the transaction of public business which the interests of the Government require to be so transacted and unless each voucher covering such tolls carry a certification that the use of the telephone in such instances was necessary in the interest of the Government. It is believed, however, that the continued use of Form AD-102 in the field is not practical. The Departmental requirement regarding the use of Form AD-102 is therefore modified to the extent that this form will not hereafter be required to support telephone calls billed to field offices or reimbursed to travelers on their expense accounts. The following changes in procedure are effective immediately:

1. Field Stations. Each voucher covering telephone service rendered to field stations will be supported by a certification by the responsible officer in charge "that the long distance telephone calls covered by this voucher (statement) were necessary on account of official business, were not personal, and were in the interest of the Government". Such certification may appear on the voucher itself or (if the voucher is prepared in Washington) on the "Statement of the U. S. Government Official Toll Service" (Form S.N. 650) rendered by the telephone company.

2. Travelers. Travelers claiming reimbursement for official long distance calls paid for out of personal funds will list these calls on their reimbursement vouchers in the manner prescribed in paragraph 69 of the Standardized Government Travel Regulations, and will directly thereunder make certification in the form prescribed. Such certification will be in addition to the general certification on the face of the voucher.

Continuation of Long Distance Telephone Calls

The Interior Department Appropriation Act, 1940, 53 Stat. 938, provides that no appropriation be used for the payment of long distance telephone tolls except for the transmission of public business which the interests of the Government require to be so transmitted and unless each voucher covering such tolls carry a certification that the use of the telephone in such instance was necessary in the interest of the Government. It is believed, however, that the continued use of Form AI-102 in the field is not practical. The Department is therefore recommending the use of Form AI-102 as heretofore modified to the extent that this form will not thereafter be required to support telephone calls billed to field offices or returned to travelers on their expense accounts. The following changes in procedure are effective immediately:

1. Field Stations. Each voucher covering telephone service rendered to field stations will be supported by a certification by the responsible officer in charge "that the long distance telephone calls covered by this voucher (statement) were necessary on account of official business, were not personal, and were in the interest of the Government". Such certification may appear on the voucher itself or (if the voucher is prepared in Washington) on the "Statement of the U. S. Government Official Toll Service" (Form S. H. 550) rendered by the telephone company.

2. Travelers. Travelers claiming reimbursement for official long distance calls paid for out of personal funds will list these calls on their reimbursement vouchers in the manner prescribed in paragraph 6 of the Standardized Government Travel Regulations, and will directly thereon make certification in the form prescribed. Such certification will be in addition to the general certification on the face of the voucher.

It is expected that bureaus and offices will exercise careful administrative control to see that charges for long-distance telephone calls are held to the minimum consistent with the proper transmission of official business. Chiefs of bureaus will be responsible for the introduction of such control measures as will safeguard the expenditure of public funds for this purpose.

It is possible that some bureaus may wish to continue individual certification of each long distance call in particular field offices where there might be special conditions warranting it. This is left optional with the bureau concerned. MINIMUM WAGE POLICY

The Fair Labor Standards Act, passed by the Congress and approved by the President in 1938, prescribes certain conditions, particularly with respect to wages, deemed to be necessary for the maintenance of the minimum standard of living necessary for the health, efficiency, and general well-being of workers.

The Act does not, of course, apply to those employed by the Department of Agriculture. The Department has, however, as an instrumentality of the Government prescribing conditions, an obligation as an employer to treat its workers equitably and to pay them fairly according to standards required by the Government in other employment. Therefore, it is hereby declared to be the policy of the Department of Agriculture, in so far as it is within the administrative authority of the Department to do so, to comply with the standards set forth in the Fair Labor Standards Act with respect to minimum wages. While I am under the impression that there are relatively few if any cases where there may be any doubt that employment standards of the Department do not meet the minimum provided by the Fair Labor Standards Act, it is important that any differences be considered and appropriately adjusted.

The Director of Personnel is hereby authorized and directed to initiate studies and to take such administrative action as may be necessary to give effect to this policy. Instances of apparent or possible conflict between provisions of the Fair Labor Standards Act and laws and regulations applicable to employment by the Department of Agriculture or any of its subdivisions, including corporations, should be called to the attention of the Director of Personnel in order that application of the policy stated above may be clarified and effected.

MINIMUM WAGE POLICY

It is the purpose of this supplementary memorandum to state more explicitly the minimum wage policy of the Department and to prescribe certain conditions which will insure uniformity in carrying out the policy originally stated in my memorandum of October 19, 1940.

Employees on the pay roll of the Department whose compensation is not governed by the Classification Act of 1923, as amended, shall be paid not less than 30 cents per hour worked, except as provided in the next paragraph. In addition, employees paid from funds allotted or controlled by the Department shall be paid not less than 30 cents per hour worked, except as provided in the next paragraph.

Collaborators, agents, and consultants who are appointed without compensation or with only nominal compensation shall be exempt from the minimum wage requirement. Handicapped or partially disabled workers, those employed outside the limits of the continental United States, and those employed under cooperative agreements, articles of association, advices of allotment and authority, or other basis from funds allotted or controlled by the Department may, with the prior approval of the Director of Personnel and subject to such conditions as he may prescribe, be paid less than 30 cents per hour.

Any method of payment, such as hourly, per diem, or piece work rates, may be used, provided it satisfies the minimum wage requirement. For example, those regularly employed 8 hours per day, 44 hours per week, would ordinarily receive not less than $2.40 per day, $13.20 per week, $686.40 per year. The cost of furnishing employees with food, living quarters, or other facilities may be included as a part of the wage paid. In addition to being paid for time actually worked, employees shall also be paid at their regular rate for all holidays, sick leave, and annual leave to which they are entitled by law or executive order.

Through the years, certain counties not only have been provided with the necessary space and personnel and functions, but also provided space in newly constructed county agricultural buildings for all the agencies of the United States Department of Agriculture which are administering programs in the counties. Because of these successful examples, it has been deemed advisable to set up a procedure whereby, through organized efforts, the Department may avail itself of some of these opportunities. Benefits to be Gained

The problem the farmer faces in trying to differentiate between the several departmental programs and agencies operating in his county has long been recognized. Farmers generally approve of having all activities in one building and county planning committees have recommended this be done. MEMORANDUM NO. 1

POLICY AND PROCEDURE GOVERNING DEPARTMENTAL
INTEREST AND ACTIVITY IN CONSTRUCTION OF COUNTY BUILDINGS

Through the medium of four projects administration projects, certain counties in several States not only have satisfied the plan of housing their own personnel and functions, but have also provided space in newly constructed county agricultural buildings for all the agencies of the United States Department of Agriculture which are administering programs in the counties. Sponsored by the counties, the projects provided for the construction of county agricultural buildings or alterations and/or extension of present county buildings facilities. Because of these successful examples, it has been deemed advisable to set up a procedure whereby, through organized efforts, the department may avail itself of some of these opportunities. Generally, the space occupied by federal agricultural agencies in the counties is inadequate and unsatisfactory. Therefore, advantage should be taken of these opportunities to secure better quarters.

Benefits to be Gained

The problem the farmer faces in trying to differentiate between the several departmental programs and agencies operating in his county has long been recognized. Farmers generally approve of housing all activities in one building and county planning committees have recommended this be done. Continued location of the offices would make for more efficient administration and better coordination of programs. Therefore, consolidated housing under this program will provide better space, closer integration of programs, simplify the relationship of the farmer to the operating agencies of the department, and lead to a better understanding of the public programs.

The Plan

The Office of Plant and Operations of the Office of the Secretary of Agriculture is charged with the responsibility of long range planning for adequate and efficient housing of the activities of the Department. To effectively promulgate this new program, the bureaus and agencies concerned have designated representatives to serve as an Advisory Committee to the Office of Plant and Operations. One of the problems considered by the Advisory Committee was the determination as to what group could most effectively prosecute this program in the field. It was recommended that the Department enlist the aid of the State Land-Use Planning Committees, of which the State Directors of Extension are chairmen, and the County Land-Use Planning Committees. As the departmental agencies which are vitally interested in this housing problem are represented on these committees, and the groups meet periodically to discuss other departmental programs, it appears that these committees might take active leadership in carrying out the program.

Procedure

In view of the involved nature of this program, it may be advisable to limit operation to a few counties until experience proves the practicability of the approach. For this reason, it is suggested that the State Land-Use Planning Committee select a few counties where the housing problem is generally acute, and where it is believed a program of this type could be effectively promulgated. The County Land-Use Planning Committee, with appropriate aid from the State Committee, should take active leadership of the program locally.

Work Projects Administration

Construction of county buildings is looked upon by the Work Projects Administration as a desirable project. The Work Projects Administration prefers, however, that the Department restrict its active prosecution of this program to States and/or counties where there is a need for projects and the relief labor problem is greatest.

Under the program of the Work Projects Administration, counties may receive an outright grant to help defray the cost. Land, materials, including building plans and specifications, and equipment usually comprise the major portion of the sponsor's contribution. Where direct benefits will accrue to the administration of department activities in the county, aid may be given in the preparation of the projects to the extent of the authority under which the activity operates. Projects for the remodeling of an existing county building, where the changes will provide direct benefits to the Department activities, may also be suggested.

Facts to be Considered

Due to the fact strictly Federal agencies must abide by certain governmental regulations in the acquirement of space, the following information is given:

Federal agencies are defined as those whose personnel possess direct appointments from the proper officers of the United States Government and whose salaries are paid direct from funds appropriated by Congress.

Where free space is available in Federal buildings, Federal agencies are required to utilize such space if adequate to their needs.

Federal agencies occupying suitable free space may not move into county buildings and pay rent or maintenance costs unless a satisfactory statement shall be made justifying such action.

No Federal agency may make any commitment to pay rent in a county building in the event of its erection unless Section 3709 of the Revised Statutes has been complied with which requires that competition must be had for all Federal purchases and for all services other than a personal service.

In the event the county does not charge rent as such but requires the payment of a proportionate share of the maintenance costs based on the area occupied, such maintenance costs may be paid by a Federal agency if not in excess of the amount of rent that would be paid commercially for suitable quarters as evidenced by an informal solicitation.

No Federal agency can commit the Government to render material or monetary assistance to the county as a part of the sponsor's contribution without specific authorization by law.

Such agencies as the Agricultural Conservation Associations or Committees, Rural Electrification Cooperative Associations, Production Credit Associations and National Farm Loan Associations whose expenses are borne either by the patrons of agencies or income earned by the agencies, or from State or County Appropriations are not required to occupy space in a Federal building or abide by the provisions of Section 3709 of the Revised Statutes.

General Suggestions

The Department, through the Office of Plant and Operations, with the aid of the Advisory Committee, consisting of representatives of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, Bureau of Agricultural Economics, Extension Service, Farm Credit Administration, Farm Security Administration, Forest Service, Office of Land Use Coordination, Rural Electrification Administration and Soil Conservation Service will lend every possible assistance in furthering this program and should receive from time to time advice as to progress made.

It is planned to hold conferences with the State Land-Use Planning Committee prior to the initiation of this program in a given State. However, after the program has been started in a State, should any further questions arise, address all inquiries to:

Policy and Procedure Governing Departmental
Interest and Activity in Construction of County Buildings

During the period since November 15, 1940, when Memorandum No. 881 was issued, setting forth the "Policy and Procedure Governing Departmental Interest and Activity in Construction of County Buildings", the program to encourage the construction of county agricultural buildings has been initiated by the Office of Plant and Operations through the State and County Land Use Planning Committees. It is my understanding that the program has been favorably received and considerable progress has been made.

The National Defense situation, however, has caused me to believe it advisable temporarily to curtail our efforts at the departmental level. Nationally, neither labor, materials nor money is available for this type of construction except in a few localities. Although the Office of Plant and Operations, with its limited staff, must, for the time being, restrict its personal contacts and aid, it still will be in a position to furnish such information as it may have to aid and guide State and County Sub-committees in their efforts. Since the need for adequate office space for agricultural activities in counties is so great, it is hoped that the program will be continued where local conditions permit.

The Office of Plant and Operations will continue to release from time to time such current information as may be available for the use and guidance of the State and County Land Use Planning Committees. Requests for such material or other inquiries concerning the program should continue to be addressed to:

National Defense Contracts Assigned Priority Ratings

The President has asked this Department, as well as the other executive departments, commissions, and agencies, to cooperate with the War and Navy Departments in the furtherance of a system of preference ratings assigned to contracts for items essential to National Defense to assure delivery on the dates specified. It is reported that some manufacturers are reluctant to accept Government contracts for defense materials in addition to other Government contracts already held lest they sustain losses through operation of liquidated damage provisions in such other Government contracts in instances where there is delay through granting priority to the defense contracts.

Every consideration should therefore be given to granting appropriate extensions in time for completion of current contracts which provide for liquidated damages, upon a showing by the contractors concerned that they will be or have been delayed by the operation of the preference ratings assigned to defense contracts. During the present emergency the inclusion of liquidated damage clauses in future contracts should be restricted to instances where execution of the contract within the time specified is of direct and vital importance to the Department's work.
